Dear GACC Parents:

I'm sure many of you are wondering what school is going to look like in the fall! We have been hard at work preparing for the start of the school year and welcoming students back into the classrooms! While we can't make any promises, if the directed health measures were to continue as is, or allow for even more social interaction, we are confident that we can come up with a plan that allows for face to face instruction in the fall.

We are not ready to share detailed plans with our families yet, because there is still a lot of guidance we are waiting for from the Archdiocesan and State levels. Usually we send out an early June mailing with information on the upcoming school year. Families will not be receiving those mailings until late July. This will allow us to have the most up to date information to communicate with you. The 2020-2021 school calendar can be found on the school website. At this present time this is the calendar that we are planning to use next year.

Please be assured that we are taking into account the overall well-being of your children as we make plans for next year. We are striving to make a plan that balances the health and safety needs of your children with the academic, spiritual, and social needs as well.

Thank you for your continued support of GACC. We appreciate your patience as we continue to prepare for next year, but please don't hesitate to contact us if you have any questions.

It's always a great day to be a Bluejay.

Sincerely,

Kate Hagemann and Paula Peatrowsky
